To The Court Community,

I'm writing this letter to thank you for the amazing outpouring of support my family and I have received over the past weeks.

We were floored by the sheer number of you that came out to donate blood and platelets. Your donations were quite literally the gift of life. Your generosity has given me the strength to march on through this entire ordeal. Even better, if I was unable to use your donation it went to another family in need, just like ours.

I'm happy to say that this past Monday I was released from the hospital to continue recovering at home. I'm feeling stronger every day. My blood counts have stabilized and I will no longer require constant infusions or donations.

From here on out I'll be concentrating on getting stronger and remaining healthy. While time passes and this disease becomes only a memory, I will never forget those that were there in our time of need.

From the bottom of my heart I thank you and God Bless.

Sincerely,

Nicholas Romanelli
